THE MIXED TRIBUNALS.

IMPORTANT NEGOTIATIONS.

(Gazette's Special Service.)

LONDON, Monday afternoon. Sir Malcolm Mollwraith has arrived a Copenhagen on a visit to Scandinavia in connection with the future nominations of adges to the Mixed Tribonals in Egypt.

It is considered that the object of this visit of the Judicial Adviser to the Danish capital is to obtain the assurance of the Danish Government to the new judicial reforms contemplated by Lord Cromer in reference to the status of subjects of European Powers in Ezypt, It is probable that Sir Malcolm Mollwraith will proceed to Scandinavia in order to discuss with the Swedish and Nor will be distributed at the G.P.O., Alexandris, wegien Governments certain difficulties which have arisen in Egypt owing to the political separation of these two countries and the constitution of Norwsy as a separate and in derendent Kingdom. Hitherto Mr. Borchgrev ink, the Procureur Général at the Mixed Courts, and Judge Montan have collectively represented the united Sweden and Norway, but in view of altered political circumstances some new arrangement will have to be made.

It is considered at Christiania that Mr. Borchgravink, who is of Norwegian birth, will continue to represent Norway and Judge Montan, who is a Swede, will represent hi own country.

ATTAKA QUARRIES.

RAILWAY LINE INAUGURATED.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT).

Sues, Monday. Mesers, C. J. Wills and Sons, contractors for the new harbour works at Port Said, inaugurat ed yesterday morning at the Attaka mountain at Suez (from where they procure the stone), their new railway line from the quay to the mountain, a distance of about 3 miles. About 25 guests were invited by Mr. Shalley, chie engineer in charge, and Messrs. G. Lamerini and Co., the local agents, for the occasion.

The tugboat Ellispondes was kindly put the disposal of the guests by Mr. Mavroksfallos, which reached the Attaka landing stage at 9.30 am. Shortly after, the train conveyed the guests up the mountain to view the works, and Mr. Boott, assistant superintendent engineer, very kindly took the party round, and had several mines blown up in their presence. and subsequently personally drove the train down to Mr. Shalley's residence, where a most excellent lunch was served, at the end of which several hearty tossts were exchanged. Later in the afternoon, a very successful fishing trip was arranged, and finally the party landed a Port Tewfik at 7 p.m. after a most enjoyable pionic, which will be remembered for a long time by all who were present.

Messrs. C. J. Wills and Sons have obtained the contract for dredging the Suez roads, which will commence shortly. I understand that the same firm have proposed to the Government to dredge the creek leading to Suez. and all concerned hope that the Government will accord them the contract, as the creek in question is now impassable at low tide, which is a great drawback to commerce.

THE DENISHWAL AFFAIR.

The publication by the Foreign Office of the official "dossier" relating to the Denishwai affair leads to some comments in the London Press. The "Daily Chronicle" says :-

One of the defending counsel proed that "these persons were living in a 'milieu,' which which had influenced their actions," argument, it seems to us, might: well be turned in the other direction. If the existing "milieu" is such as to encourage determined attacks on British officers, there was the more reason for giving a stern lesson.

The chieftains warn the Turkish anthoritie against being out off from those water courses and threaten to cause trouble if they and their followers are placed at the mercy of Egyptian Bedgins for their water. The Turkish officials at the same time su seeded in obtaining a declaration signed by some of the chiefs of the tribes on the Egyptian side corroborat ing the statement of the Beduins under Tuel ish jurisdiction.

On the following afternoon Mogabgab entered the office of Soliman Bey, and demanded money from the cashier, who replied that he had none; he probably intended to kill the wakil also. The murderer is still at large.

Mogabgab was an ex-volunteer with the English Army in the Transvaal during the war. He suffers from reurasthenia and it is probable that the charges levelled at him by Abou Samat so wrought upon his nerves as to drive him to desperation.

STATE RAILWAY ENGINES.

The average number of engines amounts to 20, of which an average of 118 engines (in the 15th Sudanese. cluding seven parrow gauge locomotives of the old Port Said-Ismailia line) have been standing and undergoing repairs, leaving an average of 402 in service. Of these 89 have been employed on shunting, and 313 on regular train service. The new engines received during the year consisted of the powerful compound express engines of the "Atlantic" type constructed by the 'Ateliers de Cail" in France ; ten four coupled bogie passenger engines from Messrs, Hensebel & Son, Cassel ; nine six-coupled goods engines and one six-coupled passenger engine from the Pranco-Belge Company, and thirty six-coupled goods engines from the North British Locomot ive Company. The six engines scrapped during the year were all six-coupled goods engines.

The average age of locomotives in 1905 was 14 years, as against 15 years in 1904. The total engine kilometrage run in 1908 was 19,641,668, against 17,587,469 in 1904, which gives an increase of 2,104,201 kilo

LES PATRIOTES EGYPTIENS ET LE SPIRITISME

Nous recevons du Caire la curieuse communigation suivante, que nous publicos sans y rien changer :

> Mansieur le Directeur de l' "Egyptian Gazatte."

Hier soir, men ami, le Dr. D. m'aborda tout à soup en me disent :

Venz-to assister à one séance de spiritisme qui promet d'être intéressate? Le médium doit évaquer es soir l'asprit de Moustapha Pacha Kamel.

Il faut vous dire que je n'avais jamais assisté à de telles séances et qu'au surplus je n'ai qu'une foi médiocre aux oracles qui a'y prononcent. Mais au nom du fameux patriote, je m'y décidal aussitôt et je répondis :

- Tout de même. Je te terai cependant une question : Comment peut-on évoquer un asprit avant sa séparation du corps acquel il se trouve enchainé? le pacha pourra-t-il, tandis qu'il écrit et pérore en Barope, tenir convermtion Avec nous as Caire !

- Il'le pest, à la condition d'être assoupi ou endormi, reprit mon Dr. Il le peut même en étant éveillé : ces appels d'esprits, lorsque ceax-ci répondent, constituent ce qu'on appelle des absences. N'as-tu jamais causé avec quelqu'an dont l'esprit semble absent i Il y a mieux. l'esprit ainsi appelé dit tonjours la vérité.

Ce dernier mot me décide tout'à fait, Lorsque la séauce commença, nons étions là, mon ami et moi, depuis près d'un quart d'houre, au premier rang.

Dans le silence qui suivit l'évocation et le venue de l'esprit, le medium commença aussitôble questionnairs tout préparé : est-ce que le panislamisme existe! y a-t-il du fauatisme en Egypte 1 l'Egypte veut-elle revenir sous la domination de la Torquie ! Quelle est la vérité sur l'incident de Tabah ! Que faut il penser de la papase française depuis l'accord francoanglais i Les E exptiens ont-ils de la sympathie pour l'Allemagne ! Bet-ce que l'Egypte deviendra indépendante! Pourquoi fait-on un banquet en l'honneur de votre retour ?

Toutes ces questions farent sinsi posées sans interruption. La table se mit incontinent à frapper du pied tantôt des coups isolés, tantôt plusieurs coups successifs ; cette danse dura biait trois hauras con sé sutivas. Tous les assistanta éccutaient avec une religiouse attention stra fur sta mesore le Dam'expliquait ce que Perprit avait réponde.

Le roici mecintement :-Sur le panislamisme

- Le Sultan cherche à grouper les musulmans autour de lui ; il n'épargue rien dans ce but, ni le sang de ses sujats ni ses trésors : il a lancé en Egypte, en Tripolitaine, en Algérie, en Tunisie, une armée d'agents secrets pour relever leur moral abattu (je suis moi-même son principal agent pour l'Egypte) ; il poursuit avec patience l'occupation effective de la Sainte Arabia et la construction du chemin de fer du Helisz qui doit la lui assarer. Mais le panielamisme vainqueur de l'Barope, tel qu'on le redoute en France et en Angleterre, n'existe pas. En voici la preuve: l'Arabie, berceau de l'Islam, s'est révoltée contre Stamboul. Sur le fanatisme des Egyptiens :

- Les Egyptiens heissent les Anglais parce que coux ei leur ont ravi le bien le plus précieux. l'indépendance, ils baïssent les Français qui les ont vendu par leur récent accord, ils haïssent las Grece et les Israelites qui les exploitent, ils n'aiment pas les étrangers en général parce qu'ils sont pai sas et ils ont mutuellement une sympathie tells que s'il arrive à l'on d'enx d'être tué ou blessé, même par accident, par un étranger, ils se soulèvent en masse et frappent indistinctement compables et innocents pourva qu'ils scient étrangers. Mais le fanatiems hidean qu'on reproche aux Egyptiens, o'est en Barope qu'il faut le chercher. Le sentiment qui anime les Egyptiens n'est qu'an patriotisme éclairé.

Sar les sympathies égyptiennes pour Torquie at l'incident de Tabah :

--- Bans doute les Egyptiens siment la Turquie : Ils aiment même les Tores et ils vont jusqu'à regretter les Mamelouks. Cet amour va même si loig que le Saltan ayant voula récemment s'emparer d'un simple lambeau de désert fort important au point de vue, stratégique, mais sans valeur commerciale, les Egyptiens n'ont pas hésité à leur consentix ce morifice : ce sont les Anglais qui s'y sont opposés. D'ailleurs les Egyptiens no veulent pas de la domination sugges.

Bur la presse française :

- Tant que la Prance a gêné l'Angleterre en Egypte, nous antres Egyptiens nous étions presque aussi contents que les Allemands : cette lutte diplomatique nons amusait énormé ment ; nous faisions même de l'humour à ce sujet en écrivant qu'après tout ce ne marchait pas mal avec les Anglais ; l'Egypte prospérait. Nous avons été froissés par l'accord franco anglais; nous étions donc une marchan dise, pour qu'on nous é hangeat avec le Maroc ! La presas française a fait aborus, avec son gon vernement, elle qui l'avait soutenn si long temps contra l'occupation anglaise. Et dire que tout ce c'est de la politique. Poush

Sar les sympathies des Egyptiens pour l'A

- Il set fanx que nous aimions les alle mands. D'abord ils ne sont pas musnimans. L'avais bien un faible pour M. Oppenheim, mais ea conduite pendant l'affaire de Tabah m's dégouté. Je proteste contre toute accusation de sympathie pour cet homms et ce gonvernement qui none lancent et none la chent comme on le ferait d'an polichinelle. Ansei nous ne comptons plus que sur nos propres formes pone re levenir sujete da Bultan.

Sor les sepoirs d'indépendance de l'Egypte. indépendante o'est de se faire reconquérir par Compagnis au Caire. la Turquie. Ceci explique notre attitude dans l'affaire de Tabah. Plus le Soltan preud d'avantage sur nous et plus nous approchons de l'indépendance. Quand nous surons passé quelque temps (42 siècles) sous sa domination, nous nous soulèverons à l'aide d'un nouveau Mohamed Aly.

Sur le prochain banquet :

- Ce banquat, c'est moi qui l'ai ordonné à mes partisans. J'ai préparé sur l'indépendance de l'Egypte un discours qui fera sensation et qui finira de me placer à la tête de ce journa lisme égyptien dont je soin, n'en déplaise au Journal du Caire et au Cheikh Aly Youssef, le chef iccontecté. Je ne parle pas des nonveaux abonnements an Lewa et des petits cadeaux que je recevrai à cette occasion.

Ces réponses terminées, comme on s'apprêtait à lui en poser d'autres, l'esprit se retira en toute hâte, en frappant un coup sec. C'est du moins ce que m'explique mon guide. Fautil vons dire que malgré tente la confiance que j'ai dans le Dr. D., je ne suis pas encore converti au spiritisme. Bu tout oas, c'est bien la première et la dernière fois que je passe ma poit à écouter un patriote égyptien.

Agrées, Monsieur le Directeur, mes saluta-

"La tension monétaire s'accentue. On s'attend à ce que le taux de l'escompte libre atteigne bientôt 4%. Ce qui domine la sitoa tion, c'est toujours la crainte, en partie déjà réalisée, de gros ratraits d'or pour l'Amérique da Nord. Le taux exerbitant des reports à New-York avive ces inquiétudes. Comme cela arrive frequemment, Wall-Street s'est trouve sans argent et l'on a payé jusqu'à 40% l'an les ports de l'Espagne. comme taux de report. Mais il ne s'agit pas ici de reporte dans le seus européen du mot c'est plu'ôt one pénalité pécuniaire subie par un acheteur qui, n'ayant pu, du jour au lende main, faire la somme nécessaire à la levée de titres sequis, demande 24 heures de répit, et ces taux excessifs ne sont appliqués que pour on jour on deax."

A NIGHT PICTURE.

BY ARTHUR S. DELANY.

The one redeeming feature in the buildings of Port Said is the balcony. If the soul is weary of the hollowness of the life below let it prompt the tired body to repose, and reflect from the balcony's height upon the general aspect beneath. Here one can draw the essence of things. The moving humanity listlessly wandering through an acacis-studded street strikes one as pawns in that mystic game called life, and in the fast feding light we may look upon the fringe of the Mediterranean lying subject at our feet A wondrous peace seems to permeate all the atmosphere, and the whole of our being. Away from humanity's reach we are at liberty to think to give birth to thoughts unadulterated by the gaudy tinsel of the town, for to us, as to most people, solitude often spells peace. Milton struck the true note, when he said :-

" Solitude sometimes is best society,

And short retirement argues sweet return." But as yet we do not wish to anticipate the return. We are lost in the glories of an Oriental sunset. Here is a blend of colour unequalled in its glowing beauty. Against this reverential bleze the muezzin is calling from the minaret his exhortation to prayer. His voice from where we recline cannot be heard, but we know, well enough, the expression. Hard by some Mohamedan obeying the dictates of his religion is performing evolutions, Allah, ill Allah, and a yashmak hurries along near where the sea licks the hot sand.

A comparison with former experience is the others. basis of human happiness. We have known London - that great pitiless city which holds compassion for no man. We have almost cried, as Charles Lamb did, with joy at the thought interval in digestion. When they bite with of so much life. We have sipped the cop to their sharp tubular beaks they inject at the the brim, and observed the failures in life's (Peuter) battle, as well as those who have achieved of certain species of morquito contains the success, and when sick at beart have withdrawn to find rest and relaxation far away by some winding stream, near the old, old hills, or in the solitude of the valley, but the recovery never appeared to possess that completeness, which our balcony offers in perhaps the most maligned place upon the globe.

It is dark now, and no sounds fret the silence, save the weird hum, which speaks of some ship being coaled. The restless tide of life is always on the flow at Port Said. Ships come, and go. Day and night, right and day. Is it possible for life to present anything more grot; sque, than the eight of the human ante running bither and thither to a ship with their baskets of coal, to the accompaniment of a chant which reaches our ears so weird a hom ! These diminutive creatures are the personification of coal dust, and as the light from the flambeaux throws out their forms in relief one might imagine that the water had split in twain, and Heli breathed forth a sample ot her myriads. Yet they have souls. Souls which, like their lungs, must be impregnated with coal. For their death is coal. It is always coal for them.

While the depleted bankers are being replenished, the passengers have joined in the night life of the town. There is something repulsive in the continental idea-to the Englishmanof sitting over the social glass in the areades. which face all the refreshment halls, drinking in full view of the passers by, but it increases our present happiness, and adds joy to the exiled life to re create visions of cross-beams, oaken chairs, and a goodly array of pewter, that characterise the grand old English inn.

A gentle wind is fanning us, almost a rephyr. It recalls to memory a time, when the harsh winds of March were dead at home, and the manyy liles plumes, and the golden drops of labornom were swaying in the sunny breeze, near the summer's birth. So our toughts wander as we gaze up to the sentinels of the night. The Lighthouse beams with an appalling regularity-shine, pause, and shine again over the face of the waters. Now the eye unconsciously follows a ship disappearing into the darkness of the night. Her / lights show us the hand of De Lesseps, with a digit pointing to the realisation of his mighty enterprise, his article entitled 'The Hue and Cry of the (Renter) and we follow until one by one the lights are Impodent" referred to in "Al-Moayad" said lost in the beyond. It teaches the vanity of the homeo wish.

"And is this all? Can reason do no more Than bid me shun the deep, and dread the shore. Sweet Moralist ! Aftout on life's rough sea, The Christian has an art unknown to thee. He holds no parley with unmanly fears: Where duty bids he confidently steres, Faces a thousand dangers at her call.

And trusting in his God, surmounts them all." The night has grown old, the houses seem asleep, and our eyelids are heavy. The follies of earth are all but gone, but not quite extinct, for the restless homan ant still runs the plank to the ship. An occasional arbagi rattles over the macadam, but the halo of a lasting peace appears to have descended in luminous beauty Over all.

We have lived in the memory of youth. imbibed the happiness of the present, and futurity seems to extend no further than to morrow. Generous, generous nature to have andowed man with scraibility.

WHEN THE ROARING BEGAN.

Mr. Douglas Presbfield's secount is the "Alpire Journal" of mountaineering in Central Africa is an entertaining narrative. The party saw no lions, but at a railway station which they came across there was a story that the stationmaster had recently sent two telegrams: "Please send forther police protection; '1st Class 50 Mills; 2nd Class 40 Mills; 3rd Men very brave, but less so when roaring begins," and "Please let 10 a.m. ron up the platform disregarding signals. Signalman up 28494-4-2 post, lion at bottom."

MOSQUITO PLAGUE IN LONDON.

During the recent spell of hot weather Londoners have been the victims of a rather serious plague of morquitoes. Such a plague has for some years past been of annual recorrence at this season, but this year the unusual heat seems to have brought out these unwelcome visitors in greater numbers than ever. And not only this, but their bites seem to be unusually virulent, for they have caused several people to be admitted to hospitals.

It is unlikely ('he "Westminster, Gazette' states) that the majority of these mosquitoes are natives of our country. Large numbers of the larve are brought over in the stagment water that accumulates in the holds of ships coming from morquito-ridden ports, and heat wave such as we have been experiencing favours their further development, just as tropical plants are forced in hothouses. The Port of London and the counties bordering the mouth of the Thames are usually infested -- as is the case just now; while plagues of morquitos may always be expected to occur near sesports rather than inland.

In many cases, however, the so-called mosquitoes are really species of gnats. The two general Anophales (morquito) and Culex (goat) may be readily distinguished by the fact that the former has spotted wings and a straight back, while the latter is hump-backed and without spots. This distinction may appear logeniously scientific, but it is a practical one, and should enable the nervous man to determine which i is that infects his neighbourhood, since it is most probable that a certain species would occur in a certain area to the exclusion of Gnats and mosquitoes have a similar mode or life. Every two days they take a meal of human blood, and retire to a dark corner to pass the same time poisoneus saliva, which in the case parasites that cause malaria.

PRUSSIAN POLAND.

bearings. The Hakatists is the name of a distance from the sea. league which was founded in 1894 for the purpose of transferring landed property in the Polish provinces of Prassis from the hands of the Poles into those of the German colonists; it takes its odd name from the initials of its three founders-Herren Hansemann, Kermemann, and Tiedemann. The congress expressed the desire that a Bill should be introduced into the Prossian Parliament authorising the Commissioners who are entrusted with the working of the law in the colonisation of the eastern provinces to expropriate the Polish holders of the land where they think fit. It is clear that some such high-handed action will have to be taken if the Germans are not to be driven off the land, for nothing seems to stop the steady wastward march of the Poles. It was stated at the congress that, though Prossia has devoted no less than twenty millions sterling in the purchase of estates and in settling German farmers on them, the amount of land held by the Poles has enormonely increased in the last ten years. As soon as the German colonists are given land in Prassian Poland they make haste to sell it to the Poles at a high price. There seems to be only one thing to be done; and that is to ponish severely those Germans who sell their land. But this is a course which the Prussians are unwilling to take.

THE ATTACK ON HELBAWI.

In an interview which recently took place between a representative of "Al-Watan" and Ibrabim Bey Helbawi, the latter, referring to that he had written the same on his return September voyage to Ezypt, but that he had postponed its Tues. 18 publication for a few weeks. "In that artic's" says Helbawi Bey "I did not touch upon any personal matters, but dealt with the present circomstances in general, pointing out the mirchievous policy of the native Press, whose 'patriotism' is mere folly which in no way forwards the welfare of the country. The mischievous tone of a section of the vertacular Press has already been commented upon by Lord Cromer as likely to result in the suppression of the liberty of both the Press and the nation. The native journalists are to be excused for their perverted policy because the nation | Pri. 21 likes them to write to its satisfaction, while the Press is dependent upon the people. Sun. 23 The backwardness and biassed ideas of the people can be proved by the libellous papers being spread throughout Egypt : "Al-Himara" (the She Ass) used to publish 25,(00 copies Commercial & Financial Supplement per week and it dealt only with such libellous and defamatory topics. This, unfortunately, proves the backwardness of the nation. Reterring to the native papers which are attacking him, Helbawi Bey said : "Though these papers I do not care to do so because I still regret very much that the majority of the Egyptians are of their opinion, and if I were to demand compensation from these papers, I would be requiring the punishment of their readers, of whom the majority of the nation is composed, as both the ver nacular Press and their readers are alike in being short-sighted in regard to conseq-

PAPER FROM COTTON STALKS.

The manufacture of paper from the fibre of the cotton stalk is one of the latest inventions which are said to have passed the experimental stage. It is ascerted (says 'The World's Work") that all grades of paper, from the best form of linen to the lowest grade, can be manufactured from cotton stalks. In addition to this, a variety of by-products, such as alcohol, nitroger, material for guncotton and smokeless powder, can also be secured in paying quantities. Mills for the use of cotton stalks in that way may become general in the cotton-growing stalks can be gathered. Upon this basis, from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 tons of raw material could be secured for the production of paper, which would increase the value of the cotton erop of the Southern States nearly £2,000,000.

Secretary for Egypt. LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

fair play to all, to permit-within certain necessary limits-

A SELF-INDICTMENT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "EGYPTIAN GAZETTE." Sir. - In days like these when time is very highly valued, it is well to note how Egyptians waste their time.

We find them spending the best part of the day in cafér, doing nothing but chattering, looking at the passers by, etc., and if reading, they read the vernacular papers, which still-It is estimated that on an area of land ignore the fact that the Press is a great educaproducing a bale of cotton at least one ton of tional force and publishes inflammatory

If you call at the cafés at any time of the day, you will find hundreds and hundreds with no work to do. If they are from the low class, they will be general disturbers of other's peace and serenity, and if from higher classes, they will take no thought of the value of time. The reason is, perhaps, the existence of so many cafés in every quarter of every town. Previously it was very easy to allow any In the light of so much that is taking place applicant to establish a café, but the Governin other parts of the world, the question as to ment would do better now to refuse such

In the schools it is advisable to teach the pupils the value of time, and to break the present common habit of frequenting the cafés, studies.-I remain yours respectfully

AN ECYPTIAN. Medinet el Fayoum, 13th September.
